

CUT IN STONE

Based on an excerpt from
THE LAST MINUTE

WHAT IT IS

A strong willed Homosapien, an unlucky Neanderthal, and a loner Neanderthal fight to survive the savage Stone Age, as the Saurilians, a reptilian race of time traveling space aliens, invade the Earth.

SYNOPSIS

To expand their reign over the galaxy, The Saurilians pose as deities while experimenting on the inhabitants of Earth who worship them with human sacrifice.

Three estranged travelers and a saber tooth tiger form an unlikely alliance to survive their changing world and the Saurilian threat.

TONE/THEMES

The series takes elements from classics like 2001: A Space Odyssey, Indiana Jones, and Invasion of the Body Snatchers, in a comical approach, with reflections on society and religion, to tell the story of human evolution.

It explores social relationships, camaraderie, religious fanaticism, and alien conspiracy theory. However different we may be, we all share an undeniable common ground.

It will have a visual style of a cartoon, polygonal video game similar to "Ice Age" and visual aesthetics similar to "Far Cry: Primal" and "Temple of Doom."

THE WORLD

EHG

MAIN CHARACTER

Ehg - female Homosapien. She represents evolution, birth, and life.

Ehg embraces and respects all life but has a bit of a superiority complex. She can be arrogant at times, especially towards Garl.

Ehg's arc goes from arrogant to humble. Her skills include problem solving, building and using tools and weapons.

Ehg was forced to leave her tribe when they developed fanatic religious beliefs and sacrificial practices.

URGH

MAIN CHARACTER

Urgh - male Neanderthal. He represents the average/every guy and the journey towards evolution.

Urgh is smarter and kinder than most Neanderthals but still has primal instincts and often stumbles into calamity.

Urgh's arc goes from ignorant to knowing. He will also be the connective tissue between Ehg and Garl. He is a very talented hunter.

Urgh was separated from his clan during an attack from a pack of dire wolves.

Garl

MAIN CHARACTER

Garl - male Neanderthal. He represents the primal side of humanity.

Garl can, given the right circumstances, be a loyal companion.

Garl's arc goes from anger to acceptance. He excels at hand-to-hand combat and wrestling.

Garl was raised by primates until they were eaten by lions. Due to his highly aggressive nature, Garl was rejected by other clans and lived alone most of his life.

VEN TERRAM & THE SAURILIANS

ANTAGONISTS

Ven Terram - General and leader. Terram was sent by High Command to lead the Earth conquest.

The Saurilians - time traveling, reptilian space aliens that experiment on and conquer creatures from planet to planet.

Sauriles - smaller Saurilians that wear the skin of other beings to infiltrate societies.

Ven Terram infiltrated Ehg's tribe, posing as a deity. The tribe worships Saurilians, offering them ritual sacrifices.

ROAR

SUPPORTING PROTAGONIST

Roar - saber tooth tiger. She represents nature and the passage of time - a farewell to the past and look to the future.

Roar watches over the valley and maintains the balance. Each episode features a mini-short with Roar.

Roar touches the monolith set up by the Saurilians which evolves her intelligence. Ehg, Urgh, and Garl free her from capture by the Saurilians and she becomes a powerful ally.

PILOT

Roar climbs a peak to gaze across her valley but a Pesky Bird pesters her. A herd of Mammoths graze by rivers that flow from a sparkling waterfall. An icy mountain cliff lies across the valley. Dire wolves run down their latest victim to the base of the cliff.

Urgh, his clan devastated by the dire wolves, scales up the mountain's side knowing that one more slip will be his last. The cliff's edge is just out of reach. Urgh leaps and clambers for a hold that breaks away in his hands. The wolves salivate as they await their tasty new dish but a hand reaches out and denies them their supper.

Ehg, forced from her tribe for religious disassociation, is bathed in the glow of a sunbeam cascading across the mountain's edge as she pulls Urgh to safety, giving Urgh another chance.

Urgh's gratitude meets Ehg's nonchalance, they exchange names, and Urgh motions to the entrance of a cave.

A Neanderthal and a Homosapien walk into a cave.

Upon entering, the two find Garl relaxing by a fire. Only the ones with the most hair ever showed any kindness or shared anything with Garl. The others can shit in the jaws of a famished leopard for all he cares.

Garl admonishes his refusal. The manner in which Garl expresses himself is, well, quite silly to Ehg and Urgh so they have a laugh at poor Garl's expense. What's left for Garl to do then? Well, wiggle your fingers and grab your rock because this is the perfect time for a good 'ol Stone Age showdown.
